

STANLEY KORS, IN COUNTY JAIL

Accomplice Sold to Have Admitted They Were Imported for "Clean-up."

While investigation of the case Stanley Kors, alias Kasmowski, the Earl Stanley, alias Albert Wagner, arrested simultaneously with Allen Fordley ("Chicago Boy"), Wednesday night when two were implicated in an alleged plot to burglarize the Capitol before safe in Davenport, goes on.
There is to wait in the county jail.
The two were arrested before Justice Joseph P. Kelly in police court yesterday evening on a charge of manufacturing liquor, and the case was continued to Nov. 27 at 3 o'clock p. m.

Police Magistrate D. J. Cleland was absent from the evening session of court, which session also took action in the case of Charles Hewitt, alleged bootlegger.
Undecided which name to use in dealing with the suspected bumpstealer, yegg and burglar they are holding, the police have compromised on "Stanley Kors." Papers among his effects show that he assumed this name during a visit in England several years ago, probably when coming here from Poland. His home country, as nearly as can be ascertained, he was born under the name of Kors.

The police records relating to the "clean-up" campaign in Joliet point out that he is an alien, born in Poland, and that Stanley Kasmowski, alias Albert Wagner. The warrant written against him in police court last night calls him Stanley Kors, however.

Kors was convicted of burglary in Cook county and sent to the penitentiary Dec. 25, 1915. He was then 25 years old. For good conduct he was paroled on July 4, 1918. Prior to his conviction he had been employed in a Moine plow factory, and he claims to have worked in various factories in the city in recent weeks.

Murder Plot!
It was learned unofficially from Davenport last night that Fordley, arrested there as accomplice of Kors and being held in jail, has stated that he and Kors were imported here by the vice ring which had its headquarters in Rock Island. It is said he claims he and Kors were to take part in murders of some individuals unfriendly to the ring, and that the plot was being held in abeyance during the times of trouble for the ring leaders.

Half a gallon of booze and some distilling apparatus of small size was taken from the house of Charles Mikas, 817 Second avenue, where Kors roomed, in the raid which resulted in Kors' arrest Wednesday night. The stuff was in his room or near to it, and it is the evidence on which Kors is being held during the investigation. Detective Dennis Bennett is conducting the work. He was non-commi-tial on results so far, last night.
